Things to maintain next time:

- Open and honest communication via direct messaging software like Slack.
- Proper time allocation for brainstorming sessions.
- Dedicated training time on frameworks/languages before implementation.
- Defining roles early into the development process.

Things to do differently next time:

- Schedule recurring check-ins/scrums to ensure alignment across team members.
- Allocate buffer time for unexpected delays.
- Conduct a feasibility assessment before finalizing use cases/project features.
- Maintain shared documentation for setup guides or technical hurdles faced.
